

The Pulham Market Society

Was formed around the mid-70s, by Joselyn & husband Dr. Pat Rawlence with the aim to protect the Villages historical buildings. It also looked at how we lived in the earlier part of this period, for instance how we shopped, our work, & time spent in leisure, should these be protected ?

I was encouraged to join and help, I must have shown an interest, having moved to the village from Suffolk and having a home built, ( my wife was born here so we did have some knowledge of the village) having been a regular visitor.

I later became the treasurer, this helped me to understand the direction of the society and the experience I needed, in the running of the Society

The Society joined the Countryside Protection of Rural England. From this we gained a better understand of the needs of England's Countryside giving the society an extra arm, to see how life was beginning to change in the 70/80s, all very interesting.

In more recent years Brian Carr, became our chair, a post which he held for many years, he took us through the 90s and 20s often organising interesting speakers on a varied range of subjects. Because of changes in planning and living styles the Society has been able to have gain extra interests in many varied subjects and the opportunity to welcome new members.

We meet on the third Wednesday of the months Sept. Oct, Nov. Jan, Feb March & April. In this hall, new members always welcome.

Thank you for your interest, Fred Howard Chair of the Society
